Your Honor:

My firm, along with co-counsel, Fishman & Malon, LLP, represents Plaintiff in the above referenced FDCPA class action.

This matter was settled, on the record, at the court conference held on 5/29/12. By Order dated 6/13/12, Your Honor extended the parties time to submit a proposed settlement agreement and all supporting papers (including, e.g. proposed conditional and final orders) to today, June 26th.

On June 7th, I forwarded opposing counsel, Mr. Arleo, a proposed draft of the settlement agreement, and on June 11th, I forwarded him the other relevant proposed documents. Although I had some brief communications with Mr. Arleo regarding clarification of minor aspects of the settlement shortly thereafter, I have not received back any mark-up, nor approval of the drafts, to date.

As I understand it from the 5/29/12 court conference, Mr. Arleo was to be married this past Saturday (June 23rd). Plaintiff respectfully requests that the deadline to submit the proposed documents be extended one final time, to July 23rd. I have contacted opposing counsel by voicemail and email, informing him that I would make this application to the court and informing him that -- having made the mistake of drafting a brief in a hotel lobby during my own honeymoon -- I was not expecting a response from him prior to this letter's submission.

Respectfully,
